Kindle-d on-the-go Health News Project: The Long Island Library Resources Council has been awarded a Small Projects Award from NN/LM MAR, for the project Kindle-d on-the-go Health News. This project aims to utilize an emerging technology—the portable hand-held device—for discovery and innovative dissemination of health-related information and news. The chosen device to accomplish this is the Kindle, Amazon's 6" wireless reading device. Each device is packed with:

- Health-related news articles
- Selected readings on Kindles and libraries
- Podcasts
- Bookmarks for basic web browsing of health-related info

Please visit the Kindle-d on-the-go Health News project page online at:

www.kindledhealthnews.wordpress.com for more information including the Evaluation Form, Help Guide, and Additional Resources.

This project has been funded in whole or in part with Federal funds from the National Library of Medicine, National Institutes of Health, Department of Health and Human Services, under Contract No. NO1-LM-6-3501 with the New York University School of Medicine.
